

Homemade

A homemade toy is a great way to save money while still keeping your rabbit happy. There are toys that you can come by at a zero to minimal cost. Some great ideas for homemade or inexpensive toys are:

- Toilet paper or paper towel rolls. Can also be filled with hay
- Old phone books can be shredded. If you do decide to let your rabbit play with a phone book, make sure you monitor whether or not they are ingesting the paper
- Cardboard boxes (without wax coatings). Use heavy-duty scissors or a strong knife to cut rabbit-sized doors and possibly connect several using cardboard concrete forms
- Paper bags with or without treats or hay in them
- Pine cones washed and dried for at least 4 months
- Stuffed animals with no loose parts that can be chewed off

Room to Roam

Don't forget to provide your bunny with a large bunny proofed area to roam.

The best rabbit toy is...YOU!

You are one of the best toys any rabbit can ask for. A rabbit will climb on you, nudge you for pets, and binky around you. Playtime is fun for both you and your rabbit.

Did you know? Rabbits teeth always grow. In order for them to keep them at a manageable length, they HAVE to chew. Insufficient chewing can lead to expensive vet bills and a miserable friend!

Rabbit Toys!

Toys are an important part of your rabbit's day-to-day life. Rabbits can easily become bored. Bored rabbits may become destructive rabbits.

They naturally like to chew, dig, climb, fling, hide, hop and run. To avoid this behaviour manifesting in destructive ways providing toys is essential.

It is important to keep in mind that not every bunny will like every toy. Some bunnies will like toys that are noisy, some like toys they can tear apart, some also like toys that they can throw around.

Simple guidelines to picking great bun-toys!

- Safe to chew
- Easy to throw
- Makes a noise
- Not harmful to ingest

Store Bought

Here are some great store bought options for your bun:

- Natural mats and baskets: choose maize and sea grass mats and willow baskets and bowls that are untreated
- Apple and willow branches: make sure any branches have not been treated with pesticides
- Cardboard concrete forms available at hardware and building supply stores for running through
- Hard plastic cat, parrot or baby toys with no loose parts
- Hard plastic Slinkies, rattles, key rings
- Canning jar rings for tossing
- Compressed hay cubes with no additives are great for pushing around and chewing
- A fleece towel is great fun for that meticulous bunny who enjoys straightening out all of the wrinkles (watch for signs of ingesting)

Want to help animals in need but can't adopt?

For a donation of $50 or more, you will receive a certificate and a photo of a bunny in our care. The proceeds will then go towards their spay/neuter or any medical care 'your' bunny may need.
